DETAILED ACTION

1. The examiner acknowledges the status inquiry filed 8/5/05. Following is an action on the merits. The examiner notes that the Office currently does not inform the examiner that a status inquiry has been filed.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

2. The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

3. Claims 1-12 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the enablement requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to enable one skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and/or use the invention. The embodiment of Figure 1 will never collapse because the top of bracket 16 extends beyond bracket 14. Hence, when steering wheel 22 collapses on impact, the wheel 22 will contact the top of bracket 16 and device 10 will not be collapsed. Also, claim 7 recites the upper mounting bracket (14) mounted to the motor vehicle, in which case it will never move and collapse the device 10.

Since the steering wheel 22 has a column that appears to slide through the brackets in Figure 1, and bracket 14 is secured to the vehicle ala claim 7, the collapsible device 10 would never collapse to the point of Figure 4.

Regarding claims 6 and 12, it is not clear why the device would collapse uniformly instead of from one end when compressed.

Generally, it is not clear how the device as illustrated works.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

4. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

5. Claims 1-2, 5-8 and 11-12 as best understood are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being clearly anticipated by Banyas (US006877774B2).

(The recitations regarding the brackets are so indefinite as per 112 1st paragraph above that Banyas appears to meet the positive limitations of the claims.)

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

6. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

7. This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

8. Claims 3-4 and 8-10 as best understood are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Banyas.

It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to modify Banyas to include diamond or triangular channels as an obvious matter of design choice, as the applicant's specification gives no stated reason or particular purpose for the shapes claimed, and the invention would appear to work just as well with the claimed shapes as with the hexagonal shape shown by Banyas.

Conclusion

9. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Bongers et al (US Patent 4,465,301), Backhaus et al (US Patent 5,054,810) and Sato (US006237955B1) and Wight et al (US Patent 3,373,629) show collapsing sections.
